In Skie Bender's wolf paintings she merges her two passions, art and animals, into one. Skie has been active at Wolf Haven International since 2004. Currently Skie is involved in Education Outreach. During the spring, summer and fall months, Skie promotes Wolf Haven International to schools; libraries; Girl and Boy Scouts; Nature, Senior, & Community Centers; and other private groups throughout Washington State. But when winter hits, Skie follows the birds south to California, where she continues her Education Outreach work by giving wolf conservation presentations to various groups in California as well.

Since Daniel Curry was a young boy he was fascinated with the artistic talent of his mother. Often when he was young he would sneak into her room to look through her sketch pads and was awestruck with the treasures he found. In his drawings he has accomplished a childhood goal; to follow in his mothers artistic footsteps.

Daniel has been employed as an Animal Care Specialist at Wolf Haven International since November of 2004. He feels that it is an honor to care for these animals in the manner and role that he has; an honor that drives him to do the best he can for the animals at Wolf Haven. Once asked, what have you learned the most about during your years working with these animals, Daniel replied, "myself".
